

Using the “strings” command:

E.g., `strings ./honeydex`

It will print all the readable strings in the binary. You can also save the output on a file in this way:

```
strings ./honeydex > out.txt
```